

Road
B

If the legal address is Road B, then the end of the house facing Road B is the front of the house. All setbacks must be adhered to.

House: front of house is set by legal description no matter what direction the house actually faces.

Front of House established by legal address.
Setback requirements must be adhered to.

Road A = legal address